

Problems Related to Regulations
As seen by the Current Service Provider

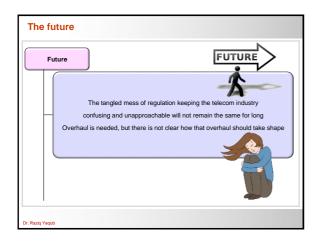

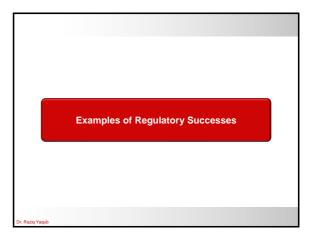

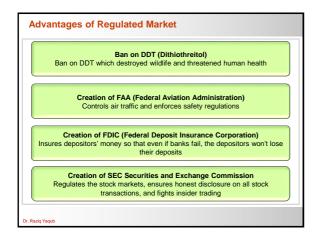

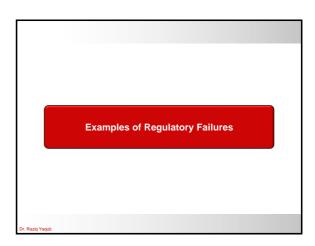

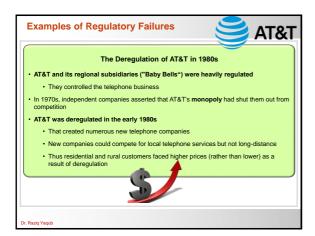

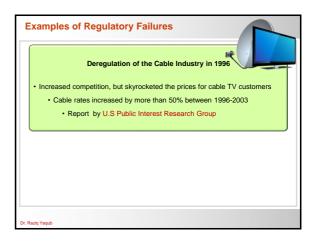

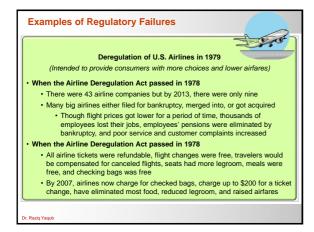

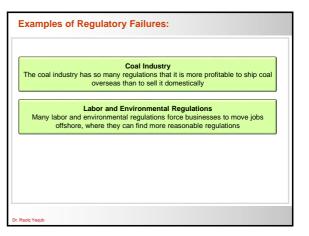

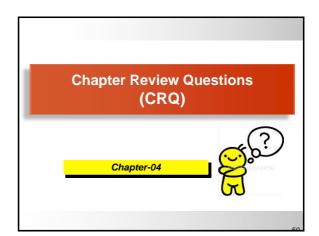

The Bottom Line The Bottom Line Free market economics isn't perfect, but neither are completely regulated economies. The key is to strike a balance between free markets and the amount of government regulation needed to protect people and the environment. When this balance is reached, the public interest is protected, and private business flourishes.

Q1

- · Pick the most accurate statement.
- The leading flaw of radio Act of 1910 that gave birth to 1912 Act was:
 - A. Ships carrying over 60 passengers had to carry radio equipment
 - B. The radio signal interference
 - C. Trans-Atlantic radio technology developed by Marconi
 - D. FCC was not charged to implement the act

Q2

· Pick the most accurate statement

Radio Act of 1912 was replaced by Radio Act of 1927. The Act of 1927:

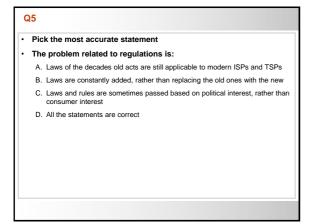

- A.Authorized FRC to investigate the Sinking of Titanic in 1912
- B.Created a mandated for the Ship's Crew to stay alert and avoid fatigue
- C.Created Federal Radio Commission (FRC)
- D.None of the statement is correct

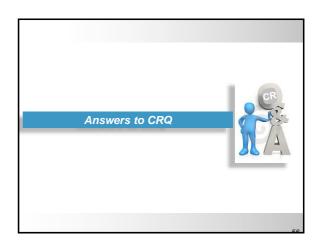

Q3

- · Pick the most accurate statement
- · The Act of 1934:
 - A. Provides for the regulation of interstate and foreign communications
 - B. Requires for safety of consumers, e.g., by limiting the transmit radio power and in general protection of environment
 - C. Combines regulations of telephone, telegraph and radio communications
 - D. All the statements are correct

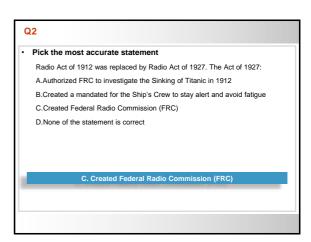

Q4

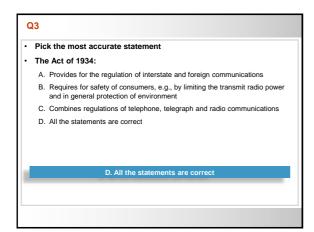

- · Pick the most accurate statement
- · Act of 1996 The Telecommunications Act
 - A. Requires ISP to provide access to all sites, content and applications at the same speed, without blocking or giving preference to any content
 - B. Requires ISP to circumvent Net Neutrality and promote preferential services
 - C. Allows law enforcement to access communications laws for security purposed
 - D. Condemns wiretapping of communications services for privacy reasons

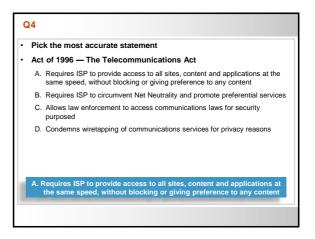

Pick the most accurate statement. The leading flaw of radio Act of 1910 that gave birth to 1912 Act was: A. Ships carrying over 60 passengers had to carry radio equipment B. The radio signal interference C. Trans-Atlantic radio technology developed by Marconi D. FCC was not charged to implement the act

Pick the most accurate statement The problem related to regulations is: A. Laws of the decades old acts are still applicable to modern ISPs and TSPs B. Laws are constantly added, rather than replacing the old ones with the new C. Laws and rules are sometimes passed based on political interest, rather than consumer interest D. All the statements are correct

